Associated Credit Union of Texas joins BAHEP membership

BAY AREA HOUSTON, TEXAS – Associated Credit Union of Texas (ACU of Texas) is a community credit union that offers quality financial services to the Greater Houston – Galveston metro areas. As a state-chartered credit union, federally insured by the National Credit Union Insurance Fund (NCUIF), ACU of Texas is a not-for-profit organization dedicated to providing services in a caring, professional manner while maintaining a strong financial base.

Bob Mitchell, president of the Bay Area Houston Economic Partnership, welcomed ACU of Texas as a new member of the organization saying, “ACU of Texas was founded 70 years ago; so, it is obviously serving its members and the community very well to have that kind of longevity. I look forward to their participation in our initiatives.”

Derrick Brown, vice president of Business Development, will represent ACU of Texas within BAHEP. He commented, “Associated Credit Union of Texas strives each day to give back to the community we serve. We feel that joining BAHEP and supporting the region, our region, through its numerous activities is a very effective way of showing we care.”

Since 1949, ACU of Texas has worked to develop life-long bonds with its members. Membership and their full suite of services are open to anyone who lives, works or worships in Austin, Brazoria, Burleson, Fayette, Galveston, Harris, Lee, Waller, or Washington counties or within a 10-mile radius of one of its branch locations. ACU of Texas’ full suite of services includes realty, insurance, mortgage, investment and traditional banking for individuals and businesses.
