Staybridge Suites Houston NASA-Clear Lake joins BAHEP

BAY AREA HOUSTON, TEXAS – Staybridge Suites Houston NASA-Clear Lake, an upscale, extended stay hotel, has joined the Bay Area Houston Economic Partnership. Bob Mitchell, BAHEP president, stated, “Staybridge Suites fills a unique and valuable niche within the region. It addresses the needs of a wide variety of clients, several of which are already members of our organization. I look forward to working with Staybridge Suites Houston NASA-Clear Lake toward the continued development of the Bay Area Houston economy.”

The hotel offers both daily and longer term lodging accommodations along with meeting space available for daily rental. Newly opened in April 2009, it has several innovative features including LCD televisions with 24 HD channels in every suite, an executive club level fitness center, an outdoor putting green, a salt water pool, and a plush home theater. A free breakfast, seven days a week, and complimentary Tuesday-Thursday dinner with beer and wine are standard fare. As Staybridge Suites is a franchisee of Atlanta-based InterContinental Hotel Group, all guests can avail themselves of the “Priority Club” frequent guest program and its numerous rewards.

Rahul Bahl, Staybridge Suites Houston NASA-Clear Lake owner, noted, “Our base clientele includes smaller and larger companies from the aerospace, petrochemical, and medical industries that call Bay Area Houston home. Not only are networking opportunities within BAHEP plentiful, but BAHEP members and the region also benefit from the initiatives that develop through such interaction.”

Bahl added that the hotel’s unique lineup of features and amenities caters to tourists and corporate travelers alike. The facility is especially conducive to meeting and exceeding the needs of companies that conduct employee or customer training in the Bay Area, relocate employees to the area, or who have staff or vendors with temporary lodging needs.

Staybridge Suites Houston NASA-Clear Lake is located at 501 West Texas Avenue in Webster, TX, and can be reached by calling 281.724.6230 or 281.338.0900. Kristi Amiri is the general manager, and Amy Zelenka serves as director of sales.
