83rd Legislative Session

The Bay Area Houston Economic Partnership supports the Texas Legislature's efforts to ensure Texans have access to cutting edge networks and technologies, including IP broadband, that can deliver substantial economic benefits for consumers and businesses. When Texas advances public policy that ensures our economy and communities thrive and expand, everyone benefits. We should opt for job creation and an environment that encourages investment in critical technological infrastructure. Texas ought to be a state that continues to promote innovation over burdensome regulation and one that spurs, through smart incentives and tax policy, the research, development and manufacturing that can unleash a new wave of economic growth and job creation to strengthen our state and our nation.

Further, the Bay Area Houston Economic Partnership recognizes that innovation, consumer choice, and the proliferation of advanced technologies to meet our education, health care, community and economic needs in the 21st century is best achieved through private investment, robust competition and sustained job creation, not heavy-handed government regulation.
